How Hospice Care of the Lowcountry Honors Veterans at End-of-Life

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: November 1, 2021 –

Americans across the country celebrate Veterans Day on November 11, a special day to salute the men and women who have bravely served our country in the military. These fellow Americans have made profound sacrifices in defense of freedom, and they deserve our heartfelt thanks and appreciation.

Hospice Care of the Lowcountry does that by honoring our nation's Veterans by supporting them at the end of their lives.

Hospice and palliative care combine the highest level of quality medical care with the emotional and spiritual support that patients and families need most when facing the end-of-life.

"I'm proud to say that we are also committed to providing high quality care for Veterans facing a serious illness," said HCL Director of Business Development James Dismond. "As a partner in the We Honor Veterans program, we are committed to providing Veteran-centric care that address their unique needs through our Vet-to-Vet volunteer program, recognition ceremonies, and help navigating VA benefits."

Honoring Veterans isn't just a once-a-year activity for Hospice Care of the Lowcountry. We serve the Veterans in our care as well as our community every day. To all of our nation's Veterans, we, at Hospice Care of the Lowcountry, thank you.
